ATLANTA, GEORGIA:.....JULY 8.

Late News

Pennsylvania Radical politicians, such as Cameron and Covode, are in Washington predicting Radical defeat in their State, unless Grant will do better, and appoint other men to office.

The Macon Telegraph says that a number of Radical, and twenty of the Democratic members of the Legislature, have urged Governor Bullock to call the Legislature together, to decide the negro question. It can give names but wont. Governor Bullock replied, that if the Legislature would decide the question promptly, he would convene it, but not otherwise Who are these Democrats?

CONFLICT.—The New Orleans Bee, in a trenchant article, comments upon the conflict between the Federal and State Courts, in Louisiana, upon the subject of negro notes. They are valid in the former and void in the latter tribunals. The result is that non-residents can collect claims that home citizens cannot, and thus discrimination is practically made in favor of the stranger and foreigner.

☞ See Fourth Page.

GOOD.—Chase has intimated that if Yerger was convicted by the military commission, he would grant a writ of habeas corpus, and remit the accused for trial before the civil tribunals.

☞ Mrs. Dr. Mary E. Walker has, at last got a clerkship in the Third Auditor's office.

Picnic at Catoosa Springs—Sensible Reflections — Patronize Home.

TUNNELL HILL, July 7, 1869.

Editor Constitution: It was our pleasure, on Monday last, to attend a Picnic at Catoosa Springs, upon which occasion the beauty and elite of Dalton was present, and quite a number from this place.

The day was cool and exceedingly favorable to the enjoyment of the party, and right well, too, did they enjoy the dance, the promenade, and last, but not least, the contents of a large number of well-filled baskets. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasures that all hands participated in.

Catoosa Springs may be justly ranked among the best watering places in the United States, both in variety of waters, and their medicinal properties. Here the invalid can find a remedy for almost any disease that he may be afflicted with, together with a salubrious and healthy climate. The springs number about fifty, including twenty-six distinct varieties of water; and surrounding nature lends beauty of scenery hardly to be surpassed in any country. Why then should any of our Southern people, especially Georgians, go a thousand or more miles from home to enrich the pocket of some Saratoga hotel keeper? where the Grecian or some of the other innumerable bends of fashion are more attractive, and certain in their results, than all the water to be found there; when home institutions may be found possessing all the essential advantages, and so richly deserving patronage.

The interest and great resources of our country can never be advanced nor developed, without the aid of home energy and capital, and when these are turned in the right direction, no mean monument will be erected, to tell future generations of our wealth and influence. LEWIS.

The regular annual exercises of the above institution took place during the last week in June, beginning the last Sabbath with the sermon by Jesse Boring, D. D., of Atlanta, an effort every way worthy of that gentleman's name. The Lovefeast in the evening, conducted by Rev. J. F. Dowdell, was one of those occasions in which the heart participates, and from which the entire religious sense arises strengthened. The sermon in the evening, by Rev. E. D. Loveless, was an earnest, eloquent appeal which aroused the spirit of enthusiasm in every hearer. The Meador prize declamation, Monday, reflected credit upon the participants, and the literary address, by Capt. Turner, of Selma, was genial, sympathetic and, in parts, beautiful.

The experience of this, in some respects, naive institution, approves our theory as to the co-education of the sexes. This plan not only prevents those embarrassments which frequently attend efforts for the education of the sexes apart, in the same city, but promotes most effectually the culture, which schools should furnish. We should not be surprised to learn that the relations here, were more judicous than those in many cases preserved at home.

In addition to the above features, a Normal Class is organized, the course of study occupying two years. This is a department in which teachers are not so much taught as trained to teach.

Long life to the school at Opelika!

Improvements are rapidly in progress, at Opelika. Twelve brick buildings are having an ascension, and two new railroads are in immediate prospect.

Monday evening, Savannah had the severest thunder storm of years. The rain poured in a deluge. The thunder roared incessantly. The lightning struck several objects. A ball of fire killed a horse, burned badly a buggy, and injured the occupants slightly—a Mr. and Mrs. William Dooner—burning the lady's feet and legs, and shocking electrically the gentleman's head and back. The damage in the country was considerable.—Savannah News.

The Eatonton Press says, it is rumored that the clever Republican Postmaster, Mr. Prudden, will be turned out—too clever.

Negro Clerks have been appointed in the Washington Postoffice. Grant is at least impartial. He treats goose and gander to the same sauce. This is as much right as a wrong thing can be.—Atlanta Constitution.

With every disposition to do Grant justice, we cannot agree with our Atlanta friend in his views of impartiality. The District of Columbia is not a State, nor has it a vote. General Grant will be impartial when he appoints negroes to important offices in the Northern States, a thing which he has not done up to this time. Let him give us a negro inspector in the New York Custom House, a negro postmaster at Philadelphia or Cincinnati—we shall then begin to consider the question of impartiality.—Savannah Republican.

Grant wanted negro clerks put in the Chicago and Boston Post-offices, but his managers would not let him. From the lights before us, Brother Sneed, we think that Ulysses is for the whole black doctrine, without reference to locality, and we must give him full credit for his impartial desire to nauseate the whole body politic with this species of political "Black Vomit."

The Republican tells of an interesting meeting, in Savannah, to arrange direct trade with Germany. Col. Howard, agent for Tennessee capitalists, had contracted, in Berlin, Prussia, for a half interest in twelve steamers, by transfer of Tennessee lands, the lands to be occupied with settlers, and the steamers to bring immigrants and trade. Letters were read from Bismarck and the King of Prussia, wishing direct trade with the South, for cotton, linen and silk goods, and porcelain, and wares. Donations of lands were offered for immigrants, and the railroads promised cheap fares to help the movement. A committee of five was appointed to report upon the matter. Committee—General Jos. E. Johnston, Colonel Jno. Screven, General J. F. Gilmer, Captain A. P. Wetter, John R. Wilder, E. C. Anderson.

Judge Garnett Andrews decided, in Chambers, on Monday last, at Washington, Ga., that John Raley is the legal, and only, Sheriff of Warren county. This decision puts somebody in a precarious fix. Bullock won't feed "Chap" much longer, and we soon hope to hear of some county having that privilege.—[Warrenton Clipper.

A CONTRAST.

Slavery and Government Bonds—Which has Helped the Country most—A Striking Comparison.

There was an institution down South against which there was a great prejudice. It was estimated, when it was considered in the character and in the shape of property, to be worth $3,000,000,000. We say that was slavery. While it was in that shape in cotton, tobacco, rice, and sugar it not only sustained itself and contributed to the wealth of the nation, but added some of the largest items that made their way into the commercial world. I was no advocate of slavery. I was for sustaining the Government and preserving the Union of these States. [Applause.] But I want your attention to the conclusion, and I want you to consider this great idea of political economy which is involved and embraced in this proposition. While it was in that shape it was productive, adding to the wealth of the nation and increasing the commerce of the world. The war progressed slowly, and a great deal more so than I thought it ought to, but as it progressed, mark you, this $3,000,000,000 disappeared. The negroes became free. Property no longer existed in that form, and just as it disappeared in that shape it appeared in the shape of Government securities and bonds at the other end of the line. [Cries of "Good" and applause.]

Instead of now existing in an institution that was productive both to the United States and to the commerce of the world, where is it now? I can tell you where it is. Go and look in the strong boxes of the bondholders; go and look in the vaults of these Government banks, and see there the great stacks of Government bonds. There is where it is. [Applause.] How many fields does it plough, while thus lying in bonds? How many ships does it build? How many railroads does it construct? How much wealth does it add to the commerce of the nation or the world? Will somebody tell me? [Cries of "None, none!" While it did on the one hand add to the wealth, property, and commerce of the world, it now lies in your strong boxes in a corrosive state, gnawing and eating out the very vitals of the Government of the United States. [Applause.] Does it put away corn in the farmer's crib? Does it freight the vessels that float upon your seas? Does it freight these long trains of cars that run along the lines of your railways? No! While bet ter it is a blot to your commerce and trade now it comes to your Treasury of the United States, without producing a cent, and asks $150,000,000 in gold.—Andrew Johnson, at Washington.

VANITY.

The sun goes up and the sun goes down,
And the day and night are the same as one;
The year grows green and the year grows sere,
And what is it all, when all is done?

Grains of sombre or shining sand,
Gliding into or out of the hand.

And men go down in ships to the sea,
And a hundred ships are the same as one;
And backward and forward blows the breeze,
And what is it all, when all is done?

Ode with never a shore in sight,
Scudding steadily on to the night.

The fisherman droppeth his net in a stream
And a hundred streams are the same as one;
And a maiden dreameth her love-lit dream,
And what is it all, when all is done?

The sum of the fisher the burden breaks,
And after dreaming the dreamer awakes.

An Important Railroad Document—Interesting to Atlanta.

Furnished Expressly for The Constitution.

ENGINEER'S REPORT

ON APPROXIMATE LOCATION OF THE COLUMBUS AND WEST POINT RAILROAD.

To the Corporators of the Columbus and West Point Railroad—GENTLEMEN: Immediately on the passage of the charter of your proposed Railroad, I caused an instrumental survey to be made. This survey developed the general features of the route, but owing to the difficult and precipitous character of some portions of the River bank, I was unwilling to publish an estimate without an approximate location of the line. After consultation, with some of the Corporators, the party was again sent into the field, and the proposed service performed.

The line leaves the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, near the East end of the Railroad Bridge, at West Point, and follows the east bank of the Chattahoochee River for the entire route to Columbus, with a few immaterial exceptions, where it became necessary to run across projecting points. The distance is 38 miles. The features are alternately river bottoms and precipitous hill sides—many of the latter being rocky and some compact ledge. The line will be gurvilinear to the extent of about one-half the distance. The curvature is, for the most part, easy, in some instances, necessarily abrupt—the least radius being 716 feet. With a good track this rate of curvature admits a speed of 35 miles per hour, with safety.

The gradients are either level or descending to Columbus, the maximum inclination rising 52 feet to the mile, and in no instance less than four feet above the highest known water mark.

The graduation for much the greater portion of the distance will be of easy material, and there will occur many points of rock and earth cutting, some of which involve heavy cuttings. The quantity of rock excavation, however, will probably not exceed the quantity needed for masonry, and revetment of slopes, where exposed to abrasion from freshets in the river.

The drainage of the country, flowing into the river, across our line, is mainly condensed into a few leading streams, of which Long Cane, Flat Shoal, Mountain Six, Mulberry and Standing Boy Creeks, are the principals. These will require permanent bridging. The minor streams are few and generally drain small areas.

Timber, best adapted for cross-ties, is not abundant, as the oak lands adjacent have, to a large extent, been cleared, but there are occasional belts of pine forest, which will probably supply the requisite number. After a careful computation of quantities, and the consideration of the advance for contingent difficulties of construction, I arrive at a summary of $960,000 as the cost of a first-class Railroad on the route examined—not including outfit and right of way. Cutts will be governed by the extent of business—right of way, we trust, will be donated.

Compared with the interior route from La Grange, this has the advantage of less cost to the extent of about $200,000, and of easier gradients. The distance between Atlanta and Columbus is five miles less by the interior route, but this advantage is lost in equating the grades. The maximum inclination of grades on the latter, in either direction, is 12 10 feet per mile. The same locomotive engine will haul 3½ times the number of tons over a level grade that it will over a 52 6 10 feet per mile inclination. As the large majority of tonnage is Southward, the superior economy of transportation on the river route will be readily conceded. In the matter of local traffic, the interior route would, at present give much the larger returns, but with the vast and unrivalled water power of the Chattahoochee shall have been utilized, I believe that the local traffic on the river route will equal that for the same distance on any Railroad South of the Potomac.

The total fall of the Chattahoochee between West Point and steamboat landing at Columbus is about 360 feet. The descent is not uniform, but occurs in successive shoals, separated by stretches of comparatively slack water. About one-third of this descent occurs in 3¼ miles, terminating at Columbus. If we may reasonably look forward to the ultimate employment of one-half of this vast power, the local traffic of the proposed Road would be assured to an extent that would justify the investment, without dependence upon a through business. The latter is, to some extent, already formed via West Point and Opelika, and comprises more than one-half of the outward through tonnage of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad. With an untrammeled line between Atlanta and Columbus, and the extension of proposed Railroads South from Columbus and Albany and Bainbridge, the descending tonnage between Atlanta and Columbus will, undoubtedly, quadruple the present amount. The construction of the Cincinnati and Chattanooga Railroad will give us the short route between the great central provision market of the North-west, and a large area of the best cotton growing portion of Georgia. This route can never have competition by rail on equal terms, as the physical conformation of the country will not admit a shorter line, without the drawback of greater inclination of grades. I invite the attention of the corporators especially to this point of comparison, for the reason that it is now an established fact, that with a remunerating price for cotton, the planters of Southwestern Georgia and Eastern Alabama, will plant cotton almost exclusively, and purchase their supplies of corn and bacon from the North-west. As an evidence of this, I may confidently state, from my own observation, and the statements of reliable men, well versed in the matter, that the planters of Coweta, Troup and Harris counties, have in the aggregate not more than one-half the area of land in corn, that they had in 1860. The condition obtains to a like extent generally with in convenient distance of railroad or river transportation, throughout the best cotton growing portions of the State. In view of the large future wants of the country contiguous to and south of Columbus, the line affording the cheapest rate of transportation, and secure from successful competition, would seem to offer fair inducements for investment.

It has been suggested that this route would command a full share of the transportation of cotton from Columbus to the seaboard. I do not fully concur in this, as a reliable source of income. Under the present accepted rule and custom, that the shorter line may make the rate and the longer line come down to it, this route could compete with the more direct route to the seaboard, but this can only be done on a reasonable profit when the shorter line may be pressed beyond its means of transportation. This contingency frequently occurs, and I think we may safely estimate an average of 15,000 bales for this route. The Way cotton will be an increasing item, and may be estimated at 10,000 bales for the first year.

In travel, we may safely estimate a reliable and rapidly increasing business. The extension of the Mobile and Girard Railroad, and the Bainbridge line when constructed, with the active and increasing population of the city of Columbus, on the south, and the prosperous city of Atlanta, and the radiating lines of railroad thence on the north, will insure a good passenger business, without a reasonable probability of future diversion.

Upon such data as I have been able to obtain, is based the following estimate of probable receipts for the first year, after the Road shall be completed:

Down Freights	$60,000
Up Freights	25,000
Passage	$ 35,000
Mail and Express	5,000
	$116,000

The operating expenses for the first five years, if worked in connection with the Atlanta and West Point Railroad, will not exceed 40 per cent. as there will be no renewals of bridges, cross-ties or iron rails required within that period. Assuming this per centage of expenses, the net receipts upon the foregoing estimate would be $69,000, or about 8 per cent. upon probable cost of Road and outfit.

The business men of Columbus, are fully awake to the importance of a line to their city, independent of the dictation and control of the Central Railroad Company. This short link secures this object, incidentally, what would necessitate the construction of a line to the Northwest in connection with the Northwest.

The stockholders of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad Company, are largely interested in this matter. The permanent prosperity of their road, in a large measure, depends upon a connection with Columbus that shall be under their control.

Respectfully submitted by
E. P. GRANT, Civil Engineer.

☞ From his repeated defeats of the Presidency, the Democratic nomination for which he at last accepted, Horatio Seymour has been called the Great Decliner. But this title will avail him no longer. Miss Anna Dickinson is said to be the heroine of two hundred declinations of matrimony, and "the prize still they come," and still they are declined. Miss Dickinson, then, is the Great Decliner, but, as there is no accounting for the ways of politicians or women, she may, like Horatio, accept at last.

RICHMOND, July 8.—Gilbert C. Walker arrived, at one o'clock this morning, from Norfolk. The day was made a holiday for his reception, and when the cars arrived, about five thousand people had congregated at the depot. A committee composed about equally of the most prominent white and colored citizens, was at the cars to receive him, but the populace rushed in, and seizing Walker, bore him on their shoulders to a coach ornamented with National and State flags. The procession, which was nearly a mile long, marched through the principal streets. Many of the coaches, of which there were a hundred in line, were covered with National flags, and on the bandwagon was a transparency with a painting of the white and colored man shaking hands. The streets were literally filled with people following the procession. At least 20,000 persons were out. On reaching the house of Col. James R. Branch, the Conservative candidate who was killed by a calamity on Friday last, the procession passed in silence, and with uncovered heads. Upon reaching the hotel, Walker appeared between the National and State flags, held by representatives of the two races, and after a few minutes of deafening cheers, made a brief speech, saying, after congratulating the audience on their complete victory, that in this moment of triumph they must not forget charity for the defeated; they must remember that the votes against the ticket were given by deluded and ignorant men of a race that had not yet had time to be educated sufficiently to know the wrong of disfranchising others. We must remember that we have succeeded on the platform of universal suffrage and equal rights, and we must see that those who opposed us, as well as those who supported us, have all their rights, and protected fully by the law, and with the law, and under the law. [Loud cheers.] They must be educated and taught the value of the great boon of franchise that has been conferred upon them, and the true value of being a citizen. We must not forget that the opportunity of winning this victory was given through the liberality of President Grant, [Loud and continued cheering,] and we must see that its fruits are for the benefit of all. After a jocular allusion to the grief of the present State office holders of the Wells persuasion, the speaker concluded with a cheerful picture of the future prosperity of the State.

Three cheers were given for Grant, at the close.

Walker was followed by Isaac Hunter, colored, and several white speakers.

The election returns to-day, continue to be more and more favorable to Walker. The returns this morning show that the Walker men will have a majority of sixty on joint ballot in the Legislature.

RED JACKET AXE

Is better than our regular shaped Axes, for these reasons: First—It cuts deeper. Second—It don't stick in the wood. Third—It does not jar the hand. Fourth—No time is wasted in taking the Axe out of the cut. Fifth—With the same labor you will do one-third more work than with regular Axes. Red paint has nothing to do with the good qualities of this Axe, for all our Axes are painted red. If your hardware store does not keep our goods, we will gladly answer inquiries or fill orders direct, or give you the name of the nearest dealer who does keep them.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::::JULY 9.

Georgia.

The Tribune, of June 25th, contains a lengthy letter from Dr. Thomas P. Janes, from Penfield, Greene county, Georgia, upon the condition of our State. The letter is well-written, able, timely. We regret that we have not space to reproduce it for our readers. It presents, succinctly, the many seductions Georgia presents to the immigrant, and explodes the idea that we are hostile to any good people. It shows how we make every thing here that can be made North, East, or West, save ice. We make every species of grain; we grow the finest of grasses; we raise all stock easily; we have as good fruit as the world affords; we own illimitable forests of the best timber; we possess every variety of mineral, in the most lavish profusion; we control unsurpassed water-power facilities for manufacturing; our cotton capacities are unequalled; we live in a climate whose healthfulness is the embodiment of salubrity; we have live, enterprising cities; our educational facilities are fine; our railroads are numerous and increasing; our people are warm-hearted and hospitable.

Dr. Janes' summary of the attractions and powers of our State, is singularly strong, vivid, comprehensive and condensed.

He says that, with money and men, Georgia's future is grand.

We have simply to comment, that if Greeley will stop his Atlanta Slander Mill, and publish a few more such letters as Dr. Janes has written to him, he will serve the cause of truth, and get some correct ideas of the South in his noggin, to the great benefit of his politics, and to the well-being of the whole country.

Cotton.

From the proceedings of the "Cotton National Association" in Boston, we glean these facts,

The supply of cotton from September 1, 1868, to June 18, 1869, was 2,347,000 bales.

Northern spinners used 850,000 bales.

Foreign exports were 1,402,000 bales.

The stock in home ports, June 18, was 95,000 bales.

The consumption for the year 1868-9 will be less than for the year 1867-8, owing to the reduced production of heavy goods.

Up to the 15th of October, there will be needed 165,000 bales. The supply from all quarters will be only 178,000 bales, leaving a surplus too small to afford a choice essential to profitable working of a cotton mill. At the present price, (32½a33 for Middling) there is actual loss in making common and standard varieties of cotton goods.

This must result in stopping further machinery. And a stopping of Northern factories for July and August, is recommended.

Great Britain received from January 1, to June 10th—23 weeks, 1,350,000 bales, or 58,700 bales a week.

Liverpool had on hand June 10, 435,400 bales. From the United States, there is en route and to go by the first of October, 125,000 bales, from the East and West Indies, Brazil and Egypt, 866,600 bales, making the total supply to the first of October, 1,302,000 bales. Of this, 832,000 bales will be delivered, leaving on hand 470,000 bales against 424,000 bales October 1, 1868, as, on the 10th June, the stock was, whereless than June 10, 1868 it was 217,000

This shows a l[arge] ies for consumption and export.

[Exp]orted and shipped of cotton goods to East India and China, in 1866, 825,431,905 yards; in 1867, 1,066,814,613 yards; in 1868, 1,207,528,233, yard—an increase of nearly 50 per cent, from 1866 to 1868.

These exports for the first five months of 1868, were 597,955,000 yards; for 1869, only 387,233,000 yards—a falling off of 22¼ per cent., showing an average loss to spinners, manufacturers and exporters in the last five months.

The consumption of cotton in Europe has about equalled the previous year. Direct importations have been larger, and less has been taken from England.

To October, the manufacturing world has a visible and probable existing supply of cotton, larger than last year, with which to meet a smaller consumption. The result promised is a larger aggregate stock on the 1st of October, the period for making up the annual cotton statement of the world.

The direct Southern trade with Europe, must hurt England's commerce considerably.

The Southern States, by raising ample food, can hold their cotton and control the cotton market, and the cotton manufacture.

Cotton is still a mighty power, and the South, by playing this trump-card well, can enhance her power.

Cotton must still stay up, and cotton goods, if they change at all, must rise in price.

Mr. Burlinghame.

Our American Mandarin, Hon. Anson Burlingbame, is having a royal old time. His mission as Minister from China, forms one of the romantic episodes of this era, one of the curious events of this wonderful century.

China has been hitherto self-isolated from the world. European nations, headed by covetous England, had a see policy of some day gobbling her up and dividing her out.

The momentous result of Burlinghame's mission, is that China takes her place in the progressive and international march of civilization, and her country will be open to mankind.

Burlinghame came first to the United States, where his diplomatic negotiations were easily successful. With the prestige of our example, he next tried England, where he had reason to expect most difficulty, on account of the trouble of reducing the British Government to set aside its long-tried and odious policy with the Chinese.

With great tact, he managed matters so as to bring Johnny Bull to his notions. Then to France, where he had no trouble.

He has left Paris, and started for Berlin. The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald, thus speaks of his future movements:

His tour over the rest of Europe will be nothing else than a triumphal march. Everywhere his arrival is looked for with eagerness, if not impatience, and at every court he will meet with the utmost readiness in granting him all the privileges already conceded to him in the countries he has visited.

☞ Reading matter on every page.

SUGAR.—Beet Root Sugar is made in nearly all the countries of Europe—more especially in Belgum, France, Zollverein and Russia.

Last year, a company at Chatsworth, Illinois, made a million pounds of Beet Sugar.

With the prospect of the scarcity of this commodity, it behooves our people to look into this matter.

TURNER.—The Macon Telegraph says that Turner told it, that he had nothing to do with the woman who passed that bad money—was not arrested, and came to Atlanta as a witness, and not as a criminal.

EDITORIAL CHANGE.—Yesterday's Macon Journal and Messenger, had the farewell of its talented editor, A. W. Reese, who retires from the editorial charge of its columns, after a two years' admininistration. His adieu is graceful and feeling. General Wm. M. Browne takes his place in the management of that journal.

☞ The St. Louis merchants have agreed to indemnify grain shippers against loss by ocean steamer, from St. Louis to New York.

THE CUBAN FLAG.—At the Library room, will be found a copy of the Cuban flag. It has five stripes, three white and two blue, the colors alternating. At the staff, it has a red triangle, with a white star in the centre. On the flag are the words: "La Guerra de Cuba."

VIRGINIA.—The Conservatives, in Virginia, have had a decisive victory. Walker has beaten Wells, and has a majority of sixty in the Legislature. Immense numbers of negroes voted for Walker. Walker ascribes his triumph very much to Grant.

Andy Johnson says that Walker's success in Virginia, and Center, in Tennessee, would be the death knell of Southern Radicalism. The first requirement is accomplished.

NEGRO NOTES.—Judge Chase decided in Raleigh, N. C., that negro notes made since January 1863, the date of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, are void.

THE NEW YORK SUN.—The Louisville Courier-Journal has a just and discriminating leader upon Mr. Dana, the editor of the New York Sun. It laments that a man of Mr. Dana's abilities should be corrupt. If he added to his unequalled powers of newspaper management, integrity, he would be a journalist without a peer. Life is blotched with just such sad hybrids—genius and dishonesty linked to the same nature—shining talent marred by profligacy of principle. The Courier thus graphically pays tribute to the Sun, as a mere newspaper, thus deepening the tint of its comment:

The New York Sun, as a piece of workmanship merely, is delightful. There is not in the range of journalism a newspaper which shows more skill in its design. There is hardly another which shows so much neatness in its make-up. In typography, in arrangement, and in culture it is thoroughly artistic. It contrives every day to embody in a brief compass, the entire news of the day, and in a manner which is perfectly fresh and satisfy[ing]. The topics chosen for discussion [are] off nimbly. The para[graphs] most part, hit abundant, are selec[ted] raphs, which are ports are ra[re]d and pointed. The recarefully [edi]ted. The correspondence is Sun [is] ualled. In a word, the New York [Sun] is a treasure to indolent news-editors in the country. Matter taken from it needs little revision. It is within itself "an abstract and brief chronicle of the time."

WHAT THE SOUTH NEEDS.—Commodore M. F. Maury used the following strong words at the Alumni dinner, at Washington College, in response to this toast:

Sixth.—"The development of the material resources of the South is the one great necessity of the age. God bless the men who are engaged in the noble work."

His words have a deep truth.

Direct trade and emigration were the two great resources of the South. "Muscle" is capital—one strong, hearty emigrant being worth—computed in money—one thousand dollars in the way of capital. He had the assurance that it only needs for the South to let her wants be known on the other side, her resources, etc., and soon nothing would be left undone to spring the tide of immigration to her rich fields and fertile valleys.

AGAINST WAR.—Vice President Colfax, thus concisely ventilates the horrors of war:

War drains the blood from the nation. War exhausts the resources of a republic, an empire, or kingdom. War carries anguish and desolation into households throughout the land. War piles up debt and taxes upon the shoulders of the people; and although there may be glory, as there is in the heroism of the battle-field, unless in a sacred cause, like that for the preservation of national existence or for the redress of wrong that can in no other way be redressed, there is no justification for war in a great republic like ours.

It is this, my friends, I say to you, in antagonism to the military spirit which has been fostered to some extent in the great trial of the nation in its warfare against rebellion—it is this which is the danger to a republic like ours. With peace at home, with concord restored in all branches and sections of our Union, we shall go forward with the stately steppings of a giant to that culminating point where we shall stand peerless among the nations of the world. [Applause.]

☞ We have the following account of a beautiful and dashing, but anonymous American lady, who is just now creating a great sensation in Paris. The picture here drawn, is her appearance at the Longchamps races:

"Leaving her fourteen blood horses in her stables, she rode to the course on a tricycle, with a blue satin cushion and silver mountings, followed by a groom on a bicycle. His duty was to look after her vehicle while she was engaged in the more fascinating task of making a book. Her chief object on the course was to out-brazen the Queen of Holland, who is no friend of hers."

HAVANA SUGAR MARKET.—Stock in warehouse in Havana and Matanzas, 382,000 boxes, 13,000 hogsheads. Exports for the week, from Havana and Matanzas, to foreign ports, 29,000 boxes, 5,500 hogsheads; to the United States, 3,500 boxes, 2,800 hogsheads. The market closed firmer, owing to rise in exchange.—N. Y. Herald, 6th.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—It is understood, from the best authority, that the dispatch announcing that Poore succeeds Huff, is premature. Huff will only be relieved by his own request. The authorities find no fault with Huff's official conduct.

The iron-clad Cientaun has gone to Santiago, de Cuba, to investigate the circumstances of Speakman's death, and if necessary, to demand prompt reparation.

Several of the heaviest iron-clads will soon be dispatched to Cuban waters. The Seminole sails to-morrow; the Dictator in six or eight days.

Within the next two weeks twenty vessels will be available for public service, wherever emergency may require.

Major Wofford, of Mississippi, received a dispatch from Jackson, signed by the Judge of the Court of Error and Appeals, the Secretary of State, Judge of the Criminal Court at Vicksburg, and the United States District Attorney, R. C. Murphy, and other prominent citizens, says that the National Union Republican party, backed by the popular sentiment of Mississippi, will support Judge Louis Dent, for Governor. His election is a certainty, and he will accept. Major Wofford, was to-day authorized by Judge Dent, to say that he would accept the nomination.

The female employees of the Patent Office, are required to take the "iron clad" oath.

The President will make no present change in the Liberian mission.

VIRGINIA.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 8.—The fever on the Curieux is unabated. One of the crew died yesterday.

RICHMOND, July 8.—Additional returns received to-night, show that Walker's majority will probably be fifty thousand. In many of the white counties, West of the mountains, where Walker gets three or four hundred, Wells only gets three or four votes.

Gen. Canby, in conversation to-day with a Republican member of the Legislature, said he was much pleased at the good order in the election, and thought from the reports of his officers; it had been, as far as heard from, as fair as could be held in any State of the Union.

Governor Wells leaves for the same point to-morrow, to visit a son there.

Excitement of the election not yet subsided, and the city is bright with fireworks to-night.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Much indignation has been caused in Wall Street by the premature intimation of the proposed purchase of three millions in bonds, official notice of which was given this morning.

There is much excitement over the fact that a large number of brokers are before the Grand Jury in regard to violations of the usury laws.

Wm. H. Sanford, cashier of the National Bank has decamped. He was a defaulter to the amount of one hundred thousand dollars. Cause: unfortunate gold speculations. He leaves a destitute wife and children. His character, for years, has been unimpeached. The bank states that the business will proceed as usual.

Geo. Couria was discharged to-day. The Cuban recruits present, cheered lustily, and the French spy disappeared.

SAVANNAH, July 8.—The Governor has commuted the sentence of the negro murderers of Buckman and Broadbecker, two German gardners, near this city, sentenced to be hung on the 16th day of June, to one year's imprisonment. The people are very indignant at this gross outrage and their political trials.

The Legal Status of the Expelled Members of the Legislature—Letter from Judge Underwood.

From the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel.]

ROME, GA., June 28, 1868.

GEN. A. R. WRIGHT—Dear Sir: Yours of the 21st inst., asking my "opinion upon the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court, relative to the eligibility of colored citizens to office upon the status of the expelled negro members of the present Legislature, has been received, and for answer I have the honor to say that the decision referred to of the Supreme Court cannot possibly effect the status of those members in any degree whatever. By the first paragraph of the 4th Section of the 3d Article of the Constitution of Georgia, it is provided that "Each House shall be the judge of the election returns, and qualifications of its members, etc."

By the 31st paragraph of the 2d article of the same Constitution it is declared that "The Legislative, Executive and Judicial Departments shall be distinct; and each department shall be confided to a separate body of magistracy. No person or collection of persons, being of one department, shall exercise any power properly attached to either of the others, etc.

It seems, therefore, to be exceedingly clear that the Senate and House of Representatives, each House separately for itself, has the sole right and power to judge of the qualifications of its members, and the power to interfere is expressly denied to the Judiciary Department.

The question of the eligibility of the colored members of the General Assembly has been fully considered and decided by the two Houses, the proper tribunal having original, exclusive, and final jurisdiction over the question; the decision has been rendered and the judgment executed. There can be no appeal or writ of error to any other court, and no provision is made for a new trial, and the question is closed forever.

No precedent is remembered by me of a rehearing in such a case—either in the State Legislatures, the Congress of the United States or the British Parliament. Nor is it believed that there is one. There is nothing peculiar in the case to render it an exception to an unvarying rule of law, and the usage and practice of centuries.

The decision of the Legislature was made in a case where the jurisdiction is undeniable, and with which all interference is expressly forbidden, and other persons, whose eligibility is unquestioned, hold the seats—and hold them legally, by the judgment of the only department having a right to judge, and cannot be disturbed in the exercise of their rights. The balance of the term of the present Legislature is short, and no reason is perceived for any change.

With very high respect,

Your obedient servant,

J. W. H. UNDERWOOD.

☞ Mr. Mullins, of Tennessee, says of one of the Arkansas carpet-baggers, out of whom another carpet-bagger let the life: "He sank to death in the soliloquy of his own blood; we shall view him no more till the chaotic torch of Gabriel wakes to living consciousness the universal dome, and we shall see ourselves as others see us in that bourne whence no traveler returns."

OFFICIAL.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., July 5th, 1869.

To the Sheriff, his Lawful Deputy, or the Jailor of Worth County:

Whereas, At the April adjourned Term of the Superior Court, held in and for the county of Worth, A. D., 1869, George Fowler was tried for and convicted for the crime of murder, and was then and there, thereupon sentenced by the Judge presiding at said Court, to be executed by hanging by the neck until dead, on the 9th day of July, A. D., 1869; and

Whereas, An examination of the evidence adduced upon said trial, discloses the fact that the conviction was founded solely upon the testimony of one witness, whose statements are confused, and in many respects contradictory and improbable, and that the said witness was not nearer than seventy-five yards to the parties at the time of the alleged killing; and

Whereas, It further appears that the evidence adduced upon said trial as aforesaid was not of a character to demonstrate the fact, that the condemned had any premeditated intention to take the life of the deceased, but rather that the homicide was the result of a sudden impulse of passion on the part of the condemned, while engaged in conversation with the deceased, and that, therefore, had the verdict of the jury been strictly in accordance with the evidence elicited before them, the conviction would have been for manslaughter only; and

Whereas, It further appears, from said testimony, that the deceased had, on several occasions, announced a firm determination to take the life of the condemned on sight; and,

Whereas, It is alleged by responsible parties that the Sheriff of the said county of Worth interfered in such a manner as to excite the feelings of the people against the condemned before and during the trial, and influenced the selection of jurors to the prejudice of the condemned; and,

Whereas, Respectable and responsible citizens, well informed as to all the facts and evidence in the case, certify on oath, and that they do not believe, that had the condemned been a white man, he would have been condemned and sentenced to be hung under similar circumstances and upon the same evidence:

Now, therefore, In consideration of the facts and circumstances aforesaid, and to the end that impartial justice may be done, I, Rufus B. Bullock, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy of this State, and of the militia thereof, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested by the Constitution and laws of this State, do hereby commute the said sentence of capital punishment so passed upon the said George Fowler, as aforesaid, to imprisonment in the Penitentiary of this State, for and during the term of one year, from the 9th day of July, A. D., 1869; then and thereafter, namely, on the 9th day of July, A. D., 1870, to be discharged, and restored to his civil rights as a citizen of this State; and,

It is merely ordered, That the Principal Keeper of said Penitentiary, forthwith cause the said George Fowler to be conveyed to, and confined in, said Penitentiary, in pursuance of and in compliance with, the commuted sentence aforesaid.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Executive Department, at the Capitol in Atlanta, the day and year first above written.

RUFUS B. BULLOCK, Governor.

EUGENE DAVIS,
Secretary Executive Department.

PYE HOUSE,
FORSYTH, GEORGIA.

HAVING taken charge of the New Hotel recently fitted up and furnished throughout with new and elegant furniture, I will spare no pains to make it a First Class Hotel, and unsurpassed by any in Middle Georgia. My table will be supplied with the best the country affords; and to persons from Southern and South-western Georgia, seeking pleasure or health, I would say you will find no place in Upper or Middle Georgia, with better water, a more healthful climate, purer or more bracing air, than in Forsyth. When you get off the train call for the Pye House Porter, who will be in attendance on arrival of each train.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 9.

Supreme Court—Evening Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.]

THURSDAY, July 8.

Argument was concluded in No. 9, Cherokee, by Bleckly for defendant in error, and W. T. Wofford in reply.

No. 10 having been heretofore argued, No. 11 was taken up.

In it J. W. Taylor, vs M. A. Hardin, foreclosure of mortgage, from Bartow.

W. T. Wofford for plaintiff in error; A. Johnson, D. A. Walker for defendant in error.

It was opened by General Wofford. Pending the reply to him by Judge Walker, court adjourned till 10 o'clock, A. M., tomorrow.

COMPLIMENTARY TO DR. HUNTER.—We publish a card in another column, complimentary to Dr. Hunter, signed by several of our best citizens, who are under his professional care for affections of the throat, lungs or heart.

Dr. Hunter comes from New Orleans, where he has a large practice during the winter months, and has been in our midst only about one month, yet, within that brief space of time he has established an enviable reputation, both as a physician and gentleman, and we believe deserves the confidence of the public. He has undoubtedly, by improved methods of treatment conjoined to a long and active expeperience, succeeded in successfully combatting a class of diseases hitherto believed to be incurable, and we trust that those who avail themselves of his professional services during the remainder of his stay here, will experience equally happy results.

PYE HOUSE.—Mr. J. B. Camp has taken charge of the Pye House, at Forsyth, and refitted and furnished it throughout. Mr. Camp pledges himself to spare no pains to make it a first-class hotel. Parties visiting the healthy town of Forsyth, will find excellent accommodations at the Pye House.

COL. THOMAS MCCARROLL ACTON.—Our indefatigable agent sends us a large list of subscribers, closing with this couplet:

Blow the trumpet, beat the drum,
The cry is still they come, they come.

THE PROCTOR HOUSE.—Reader, if you should visit the beautiful town of Forsyth, fail not to give the Proctor House a call. The proprietor spares no paias to render his guests comfortable. The fare is most excellent and the accommodations superior. We commend you, reader, to the Proctor.

POETICAL.—Few persons may be aware of the fact that we have a lire poet in our midst. Fox, ye fat and side-splitting Fox, of the Live Drug Store, was asked yesterday, if Dr Ray was in, when he replied in the following strain:

Why, Mr. Ray,
Has gone away,
It not led astray
Will be back this way,
Some time to-day,
When, I cannot say.
If you'd see Mr. Ray,
You'd better stay—
"Let us pray,
Take a drink of Soda."

PERSONAL.—Hon. B. H. Bigham, Hon. B. H. Hill, Hon. Hugh Buchanan, J. A. Speer and T. Kirby, were stopping at the United States Hotel, yesterday. They are attending the Supreme Court.

CORRECTION.—In the Tax Ordinance, published by us, yesterday. Section 6th should read as follows:

SEC. 6. Be it further ordained, That all taxes assessed by the City Ordinance, which was in force during the fiscal year, ending June 30th, 1869, and not altered or repealed by this Ordinance, shall remain in full force and effect until repealed.

ANDERSON W. REESE, ESQ.—A. W. Reese, Esq., the late accomplished editor of the Journal and Messenger, arrived here, yesterday, and became the guest of the United States Hotel. Our best wishes attend him in his retirement from the editorial tripod, which he filled with so much ability. May prosperity wait upon his footsteps.

Communicated.]

Complimentary to Dr. J. A. Hunter.

We have much pleasure in expressing our high appreciation of Dr. J. A. Hunter's skill and ability, as a physician in diseases of the Head, Throat, Lungs and Heart, and consider his methods of treating these diseases superior to the means ordinarily employed.

We speak from personal knowledge and experience, and believe his efforts here will supply a want long felt in this part of the country, and recommend those who may require his services to give him a trial.

PICNIC EXCURSION.—The Georgia and Atlanta and West Point Railroads give a picnic excursion to the employees of the two Roads, on to-morrow. The party go to Stone Mountain, and a huge time is anticipated. The following gentlemen compose the committee of arrangements: Gen. G. Tige Anderson, G. W. Terry, David Evans, C. H. Killian, R. M. Farrar, Joel Kelsey, W. R. Oakes, H. Bellingrath, Robert E. Rushton. We wish them a pleasant day and much enjoyment.

LADIES' MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.—We are gratified to learn that at the regular meeting, yesterday afternoon, the ladies were quite enthusiastic, and reports showed that the work of removing the remains of the Confederate dead, was rapidly progressing.

AT HOME.—Cadet J. G. Scrutchins, returned home yesterday, from the Virginia Military Institute. His large circle of friends extended him a cordial greeting of welcome home.

ERRATA.—We were in error in stating yesterday, that J. M. Born, Jr., had purchased two lots of the McMillan property for the Express Real Estate Company—he bought them on his own account.

BACHELOR'S ATTENTION.—The following is commended to the attention of the old bachelors of the Young Men's Library Association:

"There are some sad sights in this world; a city sacked and burnt—a battlefield after a great slaughter—a London in the midst of a plague—a ship burning at sea—a family pining in starvation—a jug of molasses wrecked upon the pavement. All bad, it is true.

"But to us, the saddest sight of all is an old Bachelor wearing toward the end of his journey of life, his great duties undone. Miserable creature! Just look at him; his shirt buttons off—his stockings out at toes—not a son or daughter, nor a relative to drop a tear, close his eyes in death, or to leave his money to—nobody, in fact, to care for him—shunned by saint and sinner!"

☞ We have watched the course of so many distressed, emaciated and forlorn dyspeptics, of worn-out and prostrated females, who have taken a new lease of life, and gradually received vigor, strength, health, and the power of social pleasure from the effects of PLANTATION BITTERS, that we are not surprised at the Testimonials daily received. If it is a pleasure to do good in the world, how full must be the measure of the Proprietors of these celebrated Bitters.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported Cologne, and sold at half the price. july8-deod1w&wlt

Local and Business Notices.

NOTICE.—Col. T. M. Acton, is the duly authorized traveling Agent of THE CONSTITUTION, and we commend him to the attention of our friends wherever he may go in behalf of our interest.

UNPRECEDENTED SUCCESS.—Within the past year, fifty thousand boxes of DR. TUTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS have been sold, and not a single instance is known where they have failed to give satisfaction. If you would enjoy life, have a fine appetite and robust health, use these pills. july8-dlw

COMMITTED.—The mulatto woman, Marian Harris, has been committed to jail, in default of bail, to answer the charge of passing spurious money.

FOR RENT.—A new house, with five large rooms in the main house, and two connecting rooms, piazzas front and rear, closets, cellars, well, etc. This place is elligibly situated on Ivey street, at the junction of Peachtree. For terms apply to J. M. & J. C. ALEXANDER,
july7-3t Whitehall street.

UNION POINT SUNDAY SCHOOL.—We learn that the Union Point Sunday School have a picnic excursion to Stone Mountain to-day.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—Galileo invented the telescope; Columbus discovered a new world, and to Professor Morse is due the credit of teaching the lightning how to talk, but it was reserved to Dr. J. Bradfield to penetrate the mystic depths of science, and drag therefrom the wonder of our century. The victory has been won, and woman is free.

The sale of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is unprecedented in the history of popular remedies, and thousands of certificates are coming in from grateful women, throughout the Union, attesting its powers and applauding its untold benefits to their sex. dtf

BEEF.—Terhune kills a fat beef every morning at ten o'clock, for the evening trade. Stall on Peachtree street, next door to Wesley Chapel.

GREEN-BACKS.—Red-backs, blue-backs, or any other kind of backs, put on Music, Magazines, etc., etc., cheap, by W. R. HANLEITER, Granite Block. june29-dtf

COL. G. W. ADAIR'S SALE TO-DAY.—At 5 o'clock, he will sell several beautiful lots, on Magazine street. Carriages will leave his office at 4½ o'clock.

P. W. J. ECHOLS,
july9-3t Agricultural Depot.

MUTTON FOR THE MACONITES.—A car load of sheep passed through here, yesterday, en route for Macon.

SOMETHING GOOD.—I am now running the "City Mills" from new wheat, and am prepared to fill orders for all grades of flour, including the "Pride of Dixie," from fancy white wheat, at the very lowest prices. J. E. BUTLER.
july9-d2w

DOUGHERTY HUTCHINS.—If you would enjoy the luxury of a quiet shave, call at the Star Barber Shop, of Dougherty Hutchins, on Alabama street. Dougherty "is correct."

FIRST IN MARKET.—Flour from New Wheat. If you want a good article of Flour made from New White Wheat, call or send your orders to Atlanta Mills.
june20-dlm.

A POPULAR GIN.—Among Cotton planters, at present, the most popular gin is—the Scatter good gin.

$25,00 WORTH OF MUSIC is often suffered to be destroyed for want of proper care, when two or three dollars expended for binding would not only save it, but make a handsome volume. Send it at once to W. R. HANLEITER, Book-Binder and Blank Book Manufacturer, Granite Block.
june29-dtf

A NEW CULVERT.—A new culvert is being put in on Marietta street, across from the Eagle Drug Store to Kile's corner.

BUY your Hats with Burton's Patent Railroad Buckle. june 27-2w.

RECOVERED.—We are pleased to chronicle the fact that our esteemed friend, Lumpkin, of the Intelligencer, has recovered from his recent melon-cholic attack.

FOR RENT.—A dwelling house, with seven rooms, good garden spot, out buildings, fine well of water, and in a good neighborhood. Apply to june30-dtf W. H. BROTHERTON.

EUPHONIUS.—A good name for a policeman—Ketch 'um.

THE WEATHER.—The thermometer stood as follows, at Redwine & Fox's, yesterday: 9, 75½; 11, 79; 2, 80; 6, 80.

☞ An immense harvest of chignons was gathered from the scene of the most violent Paris riot, the next morning. They were advertised to be returned, on application, at police headquarters, but few were claimed.

☞ The Paris Figaro announces that the opening of the Suez Canal is postponed to the 15th of November, "in order to give the canal time to make its toilet."

☞ An Indianapolis lawyer has received the following: "Sir—can I get a devors & how soon on grounds than I can not support my wife have one child, a boy am willing to take care of the boy, ans. imeadtly & state what it will cost. If it cost $20 I can't pay that much. Direct to box 240 Burlington Vt."

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.—If you would be beautiful, use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a pure Blooming Complexion and restores youthful beauty.

Its effects are gradual, natural and perfect.

It removes Redness, Blotches and Pimples, cures Tan, Sunburn and Freckles, and makes a Lady of thirty, appear but twenty.

The Magnolia Balm makes the Skin Smooth and Pearly; the Eye Bright and Clear; the Cheek glow with the Bloom of Youth, and imparts a fresh, plump appearance to the Countenance. No Lady need complain of her Complexion when 75 cents will purchase this delightful article.

From the Sun and Times.]

The Beldame drew a bead,
And cocked her cruel eye;
JACKSON! I know by the speed
Of the ball's a rushing by!
'Twas Longstreet's corps, indeed!
But your Loyal must have his Lief!

The Beldame fluttered her flag
Out of the second story—
"My father fit for the flag
And died in a blaze of glory!"
Hung in fast for a scalawag,
Died like a dog and a tory.

And a rebel raised his phiz
From a reverent salaam;
It wasn't a bullet whiz,
But only "Good morning, ma'am;"
For your wretchedest rebel is Polite to the Devil's dam.

DR. JOHN BULL'S

Great Remedies

AND

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vender of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

FOR THE CURE OF

AGUE AND FEVER,

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed, and certainly not a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown, all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, by certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLASOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1868.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D.'s, and see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to abuse the knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that feed the country, that purport to cure all manner of nonsense which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,
JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D

Bull's Sarsaparilla

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your Sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that that is genuine. Please express me half a dozen bottles, and oblige.
Capt. C. P. JOHNSON,
St. Louis, Mo.

P. S.—The following was written April 30, 1865, by Mrs. Jennie Johnson, mother of Captain Johnson:

DR. BULL—Dear Sir: My husband, Dr. C. S. Johnson, was a skillful surgeon and physician in Central New York, where he died, leaving the above C. P. Johnson to my care. At thirteen years of age he had a chronic diarrhœa and scrofula, for which I gave him your Sarsaparilla, it cured him. I have for ten years recommended it to many in New York, Ohio and Iowa, for scrofula, fever sores and general debility. Perfect success has attended it. The cures effected in some cases of scrofula and fever sores were almost miraculous. I am very anxious for my son to again have recourse to your Sarsaparilla. He is fearful of getting a spurious article, hence his writing to you for it. His wounds are horrible, but I believe he will recover.

Testimony of Medical Men

STONEY POINT, White Co., Ark., May 28, 1867.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Last February I was in Louisville purchasing drugs, and I got some of your Sarsaparilla and Cedron Bitters.

My son-in-law, who was with me in the store, has been down with rheumatism for some time, commenced on the Bitters, and soon found his general health improved.

Dr. Gist, who has been in bad health, tried them, and he also improved.

Dr. Coffee, who has been in bad health for several years—stomach and liver affected—he improved very much by the use of your Bitters. In fact Cedron Bitters has given good satisfaction, particularly in this settlement. I think I could get a great quantity of your medicines this fall, especially of your Cedron Bitters and Sarsaparilla. Ship me via Memphis, care Rickets & Keefe.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::::JULY 8.

City and Suburban Affairs.

Supreme Court—Morning Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.

THURSDAY, July 8, 1869.

Argument was resumed in No. 9, Cherokee Circuit, by Col. Akin, for defendant in error. He was followed by Col. Bleckley on the same side. Pending his argument, Court adjourned until 3 o'clock, P. M.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Yesterday evening, Walker & Fowler sold 17 lots of the Mangham property, on the Marietta road, just outside of the city limits, and 1½ miles from the car shed. J. H. Purtell bid off three lots at $78, $100 and $200, respectively; Dr. J. H. Low bid off five lots at $100, $100, $105, $115, and $205, respectively; W. J. Tanner, one at $225; C. W. Hunnicutt, two lots, $225 each, one at $125 50; W. Powers, one at $225; R. F. Maddox, one at $225; W. C. Jones, one at $226; L. B. Langford, one at $100, and one at $133; W. C. Moore, one at $102; Henry Banks, one at 148, and one at $162; A. B. Merriam, one at $140; Mr. Ellerby, one at $100; J. M. Born, Jr., for Express Real Estate Company, one at $142, and one at $166; J. W. Rollo, one at $141, and Dr. N. L. Angier, two at $129, each. There were about four acres, and the sales footed up $3,731, or over $900 per acre.

Four lots of the "Wilson" property, just beyond, were sold, as follows: Two to W. C. Jones, at $88 and $116; and two to Dr. N. L. Angier, for $78, each. The lots were 49 by 162 feet.

Col. Adair sold a lot, on Broad street, to H. Setzer for $44.50 per front foot. The lot was 30 by 55 feet.

WORDS FITLY SPOKEN.—The following golden sentences from an address recently delivered before the Iowa Press Association we cordially endorse:

In speaking of the revenue of the press, I cannot refrain from expressing my views on the subject of free advertisements. There is always to be found in every considerable community a set of men who imagine by some dispensation, they ought not, like other mortals, to pay for what they receive. Editors have extraordinary facilities for making their acquaintance, and are very kindly permitted to contribute gifts to their support. In what other branch of business would this be tolerated? Allowing that one has put the press under some obligation, does he not generally expect to get back more than the worth of his services?

If a man does an editor a favor of a remarkable value, let him have his remuneration, cash.

On the other hand require him to pay for what the paper has done for him. It is as reasonable to expect the carpenter to shingle your house and the tailor to make your clothes, as to prepare and publish matter for another's benefit without compensation. Long obituaries, marriages ornamented by extracts from all the poets, and lengthy puffs of some one's corner lots or improvements, come under this class of advertisements. This custom of gratuitous notices and advertisements from any quarter ought to cease, for the reason that it would be a benefit to the editor's pockets, and would in some degree abate an almost intolerable nuisance. The editor's path has more thorns than roses, and there is no law, human or divine, that should oblige him to shoulder the burdens of those who are too lazy or stingy to take care of themselves. People will come to terms where they find their interests are involved in a reasonable compliance.

BEAUTIFUL WORDS.

Extract from Rev. Dr. Holland's Address to Gen. Lee's College—"Stonewall" Jackson.

Where, if not here, may one feel, in expatiating upon nobleness of character, that the theme is in echoing accord with the spirit of the place. We are near the grave of a martyr chieftain, whose name I need not mention in the village which his memory, like precious spikenard poured out of the rudely broken alabaster box of pure life, has anointed with perfumes that breathe of Paradise. We are on the hallowed soil of a State which, for the illustrious dead that sleep beneath its cloud-fretted roof, seems nature's own Westminster Abbey. Its valleys, like alcoved aisles, are hung to fancy's eye with battle scenes that depict the sacrifice of self for principle. Its mountains, like memorial pillars, record the pureheartedness of heroes who, in the path of duty, marched up to death as to a friend, and took from his outstretched hand the victor's wreathes of immortality. Under its sod, as in sacred crypts, repose the dust of an army whose remembered deeds of patriotic valor make us proud, even amid all the corruptions which degrade our race, that we, too, are men. From its wind-swept forests, as from the pipes of a grand cathedral organ, rolls a ceaseless requiem for the fallen, which ever and anon swells with swifter time into a martial strain that bids the living emulate their virtues. Here, then, as in a quiet chapel of this grand old State Basilica—where to study excellence of manhood is to hold intercourse with the spirit of its best examples—so order the steps of your ambition, that when, in pursuit of its celestial end, you depart from the time-shore of life it may be but to join the glorified band of soldiers for the true and right who have already crossed over the river and, with Jackson, are resting in the shade of the trees.

PETTICOAT LAWYERS.

The Way They'll Do—The Subject Humorously Discussed.

The New York Herald commenting upon the admission of a Mrs. Mansfield to the bar in Iowa, a few days since, thus humorously and sensibly comments: Think of the wife of your bosom, or the maiden of your dreams, bullying a witness in a crowded court-room, hectoring the judge, ranting till she is red in the face about the sufferings of the ill-used prisoner at the bar, flattering a stupid jury, visiting the Tombs to consult with her client, the eminent housebreaker or the distinguished pickpocket, discussing in public the foul details of crime, and going home to the domestic fireside cross, weary, and hardened with the temper-trying labors of the day. We do not believe any woman could practice a year at the bar without loosing almost every quality that makes woman charming. But besides this, there is still a more serious danger, which we find so pointedly illustrated by a recent occurrence in the British House of Lords, that we copy an account of the affair from a London newspaper:

"The Shedden legitimacy case was resumed this morning for the 15th time before the House of Lords. The Lord Chancellor commented upon the extreme prolixity of Miss Shedden's address, which has now occupied fourteen days, and exhorted her to confine her remarks to the evidence. Shortly after commencing to address their Lordships this morning, Miss Shedden swooned and was carried out. Dr. Bond being sent for, testified that the lady was suffering from hysteria, brought on by nervous exhaustion. Their Lordships postponed the case till to-morrow, when, if Miss Shedden should be unable to proceed, her father will be heard."

When women undertake to argue cases before a jury, how often will the experience of Miss Shedden be repeated? An address fourteen days long, and only cut off at last by hysteria! Need we say more?

MR. RAYMOND'S SUCCESSOR.—It is now definitely determined that Mr. Stillman S. Conant shall be the successor of Mr. Raymond in the editorial chair of the Times. Mr. Conant is a son of the distinguished Hebrew scholar and professor, Rev. Dr. T. J. Conant.

☞ Gen. Gustavus W. Smith, of the late Confederate army, and Mr. Hewett, a very extensive iron maker, in Pennsylvania, have been prospecting around Elyton, Alabama, with a view to making investments in that neighborhood.

GORDON CO., GA., June 28, 1869.

MESSRS. ADAIR & BRO., Atlanta, Ga.—GENTLEMEN: We received yours a few days since, requesting a statement of the merits of the Gullett Gin purchased of you last year. I have to say of this Gin that it is decidedly the best Gin of which we have any knowledge. The workmanship of the machine is very superior, every part of it being made with great care, and the boxes and shafts being set in a cast iron frame, admitting of no springing or working. It runs with a smoothness and steadiness seldom attained in such machines. The improvements of this Gin are: 1st, it takes the dirt and trash out of the cotton. 2d. It, by means of the steel brush wheel, combs out the lint, and renders the fibre much longer than the ordinary Gin, or at least makes the cotton show a much longer fibre. These two improvements gives cotton ginned on this Gin, we think, fully the advantage of 1¼ cents per pound in value over cotton of the same kind ginned on the ordinary gins; and when the cotton in the seed is very trashy and dirty, or contains a great many hard locks, it may add more to the market value of the lint. We could perceive no difference between the draught of this Gin and the old one we replaced by it of the same number of saws. The Gullett Gin certainly deserves the attention of planters.

Very respectfully,
J. C. & E. GARLINGTON.

DR.
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR
Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhoea, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, bills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood Melancholy or Depression of Spirits.

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with laxity, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he disturbs every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator

For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful is a dose will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach, heart-burn, or restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time sleepy, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become fretful. One or two tablespoonful will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find sure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

DR. HUNTER

CONTINUES to treat all private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects: as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, constipation, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally prostration of the vital powers, can be fully restored to health. Persons afflicted with this, or any other delicate, intricate, of long standing constitutional complaint, should give the Doctor a trial. He never fails.

The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions, resulting from the infringement of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposures, and improprieties to married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own Laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlet at office free or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Office No. 182 Whitehall street, between Green and Walnut streets, near the Postoffice, Louisville. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 7 P. M.; Sundays, 10 A. M. to 12 M. june28-d&wly
